Microsoft has a very lengthy set of steps to create a custom image...not worth my time. Do I understand correctly that I should setup in this specific order?

I thought they were doing a similar thing in the tutorial by this step but apparently not. Although as I am writing I really cannot remember so would need to refer back to the post I did on. Remove all unused roles Essentials, AD.

Surely the Hyper-V instance in this case is basically the same Hyper-V instance. I have an essentials server and used the same installation media to create a guest in hyper-v. I removed active directory and joined the vm as a member server.
